“ Our condolences to the family of Aunt Alice. She and her siblings have been an amazing example to all of us. I am the first grandson of her sister Evelyn. It was clear from a very young age that family was most important to the Kanak clan. I can remember the fun-loving reunions with the eight of them, often in Iowa. The picnics, barbeques, happy hours, and endless conversations among them about experiences that ranged all over the world. The twins, Art and Alice, were always the most carefree, mischevious, and playful. Because of his proximity, we knew Uncle Art better, but Aunt Alice always jumped right in and engaged with us whenever we were together. She truly knew how to bring happiness, fun, and joy to the relationships that we had. We will miss her and all of the eight Kanak siblings, but of course, will not forgett the examples they have provided for us about how to live. All blessings, Dave & girls
