“ Hey my baby Allissa Lee Broome, its mommy. Its still really hard dealing with you not being in my arms everyday. Never will I hear your first word,see you crawl, or walk. Never will I get to feed your your first real foods,give you your night time bath,or read you a bed time story. But no matter what I will have 4 months of the best memories,and for that I have everything I will ever need till the day I die!! I LOVE YOU allissa ,I know you know that already. But I don't know why your gone,I know I never will,but I do know I will see you again,one day!! You turned two on 12/23/2013,and I dealt with you not being here the best I could,it helped to know you were here with me anyways,just like you always will be. Just know what happen to you would have never crossed my mind in a million year's!! (NEVER) but it did and If I could have changed that devastating, and a nightmare that came true,and that really sucks bad!! But your in heaven a much better place then where I am,called (earth) I hate the fact that I tried to save you, an succeeded,you started breathing again n my arms,they life flighted you to shands,2 days later you were brain dead,and I had to pull your plug,an for not being able to help my 4 month old baby girl better,and everything being perfect to be able to bring you back home with me,now thats nothing but a sweet dream,a dream that will never come true. But having you by my side makes each day a little easier to cope with. But I know for a sertin fact that your so very short,but beautiful, and precious life was worth every tear I've cried,every messed up thought,or the way your passing has really damaged my mind,my thoughts,dreams,the way I sleep,eat,breath,just everyday life is really hard without you here in my arms!! But I take after your gee (grandmaw)!! Mommy is very strong, strong like bull,so don't ever worried if mommy will make it through it all,like I've always done!! See you on the other side my angel!!!! Love you always and forever;(..... I will be waiting on you in my dreams,see you there. I LOVE YOU 4ever till I'm being scattered on MT.EVEREST that's where we will see one another again. Till that time comes,I will be holding on to are memories that we had together,in a short time,but I wouldn't ever trade the best memories a mother could ever,want,have,or need,and I can say that my Allissa gave me thoses memories,and I will treasure them for life!! I miss you so damn much it hurts to even wake up sometimes,but then I think Allissa didn't leave to make me sad,she left because it was her time,and she knew already she gave her mother billions of memories that I will hold n my broken heart till I'm called home with the rest of em. Tell nanny,and Cuz Chris that sarah misses them more then life its self,see u all soon one day!! I'm still not saying good bye yet,I feel its not time for that yet,so everyone can suck it!!! I'll do it when I feel ready, and now is not even close to being time for thoses 2 sad words to come from my mouth. Love you my LEE bug!! ;(don't forget to visit me in my dreams. XO XO XO!!! GOD BLESS YOU ALLISSA LEE BROOME!!
