“ Audrie, You will always be my soul mate, my sweetheart, my true love. Everyone has a dream of meeting their soul mate and mine came true the day I met you. We shared many special years together and I dream of the day we will be together once again. True love is the greatest gift God ever gave to us and I thank him for the time I was able to spend with you. Love is, not wanting to ever be apart from your soul mate. True love is feeling like your life has no meaning without having your mate to share your life with. Love is wanting to hold your mate in your arms until the end of time. True love believes with all your heart that we will meet again in a better place where you will be well again and full of life. Audrie I will always love and miss you. Daniel
