“ Carl was the top manager for the Custom Shop and Product Service when I worked at Winchester as an engraver. He was not someone I dealt with often but when I did he was always very nice. I was the only woman working in the Custom Shop and he made a very good impression on a very young and anxious new employee. In the last 15 years I managed to contact him in regard to a couple of different Winchester books I was writing. He remembered me and was more than willing to help. He was an invaluable resource in regard to factory history. Carl was a great guy. I will miss our conversations about the factory and I will miss him.

“ Today I just found out that my old boss Carl Hummel has passed away at 91.

He was my boss at Winchester Repeating Arms, and US Repeating Arms for almost 30 years. In that time we became very close friends, living in the same town, we would car pool during 70's gas shortage, during snow storms or when one our cars was being service.

I will always remember him as being the closest thing to a father, since I lost mine just before I met Carl. He advised me and guided me along my young adulthood during the time we worked together.

There were a lot of things he taught me, one I still remember to this day was the one when I booked off from work during the second shift and he had to fill in for me. Well the next day he called me into his office, told me to sit down, turned his chair so that his back was to me and said, and I quote "the next time you call out your name better be in the obituary column" then without turning around told me that's all you may leave now. To this day I have never again booked out of work and I'm still working at 78. A lesson well executed which I never forgot.

To his family my thoughts are with you, I will never forget the lessons he give me during our time together.

Until we met again Carl R.I.P. old friend.

“ Judy, Carl & Family, My Mom, Dorothy & her John were such good friends with your parents, The guys spent so many Saturdays playing golf & the 4 of them would get together on the 19th hole & for dinner. Their friendship lasted a lifetime and was one of a kind. We are very sorry for your loss, but rest assured that they are, once again, together and are very happy. God Bless. .

“ They say: " A Picture is Worth a Thousand Words!" Just looking at My Uncle Carl certainly proves that to be True! I always enjoyed being in his company at our Family Get Togethers. He would always have an interesting Sports or Golf Story to tell. I would often call him "Bob Barker" lol. In his own way, he WAS very much a Celebrity! I personally try to accept the Lord's decisions and hope there is a "Good Reason" for everything. This one though is going to be a hard one.
