“ You can probably find a ton of definitions for the word “helper” in a dictionary or online - like this:

“helper” - a person who helps or gives assistance to another person or group with _____.

When I think of Charlie, one of the things that pops into my head is helper. The blank above, really could be applied to so many areas. If you needed help with something, you could always count on Charlie to do so, if he was able. I bet many of you reading this can attest to Charlie helping you with one thing or another over the years. Maybe it was painting a room, cooking some food, problem with your washing machine, rewiring electrical components, putting in something, patching up your wall... Charlie seemingly could do and knew so much about so many different things.

I feel GOD put Charlie on this Earth, and in our lives to do just that... be a helper. Naturally, he was so much more than that, but GOD touched Charlie and sent him forth to be a servant of GOD and to help all of us in so many areas.

He was my father-in-law for 34 years, and a wonderful Grandfather to all our kids (Jeff, Chrissy, Jordan, Nicholas, and Ian). I loved talking and joking with him, hearing him laugh, and just being around both him and Millie.

GOD blessed us all by putting Charlie in our lives. I will miss him terribly, but he will always be in my heart, and one day we'll get to see him again.

May GOD bless Charlie, Millie, and the entire Saavedra family - you are in my thoughts, my prayers, and have my support always.
