“ It is difficult to understand when a loved one is taken seemingly before their time. I am sure that one day it will all become clear. May God bless you all during this difficult time. Don and Catherine

“ A most regrettable loss; heartfelt condolences to all who knew and loved Carrie. I challenge everyone to "Be A Carrie:" Carrie carried herself with grace and kindness, never speaking poorly of others or being judgmental; Carrie consistently practiced random acts of kindness, without the need for acknowledgment; Carrie "experienced" life, going outside of her "comfort zone" to share in life's many activities; Carrie made you feel as if you were the most important person in the world, regardless whether you were an old friend or an unknown restaurant server, she made you feel that not only did you matter, but that you were important and could do all things! Heaven gained an Angel; now if only the rest of us during our life's journey could "Be a Carrie!"
