“ Im so sorry for your loss, I am and will continue to pray for your family. I hope you all can find peace, and strength. I have never met Annette personally, but she has been one of the most encouraging and friendly women in my life for the past 6 years. My heart breaks for her losing her son, as a mother i could never imagine. Hugs and love to you and your family always...from my family to yours...

“ I wish I could've said I was sorry when you were still around. You lived for your friends, had an open wallet to anyone in need and I wish you would've taken a step back and realized how loved you were. I will reach you somehow and express my feelings. You taught me so much, without you I'd be a totally different person. Thank you for being my friend, my boyfriend, and someone I could truly talk to.

“ I'm deeply sorry for the lose of your son. I met him through Maggie Robertson, Even though I barley knew your son, Maggie and I had spoken with him just hours before his mornful death. I wish i could ease the pain you feel, but some things we cant do, i understand you mourn Cody's death, we all do, but it's hard to be parents. I'm deeply sorry, I can't Enphasize that enough. I wish the best in life.

“ Cody words can not describe how heartbroken i am for the things that happened. We were pretty close friends for a very long time, and i feel guilty for our falling out now. There are so many unanswered questions... why? I hope you realize now how much you were loved, and whatever demons you were runing from, well there gone now. Your'e now looking down on all of us from a much better place. I love you and will never forget you.From AIMing all night long in 9th grade, to running next to you all decked out in your firefighter uniform when you were training in school there. We had our ups and we had our downs like everyone and everything. i love you Cody James Curth, so much. --Kala

“ I was heartbroken to hear the news, and I want you to know that my thoughts and prayers are with you. I think of you and your entire family constantly. I can't tell you how sorry I am. There is a great void because of Cody's passing, but I know that the love you and your family share for each other and for Cody will pull you through. Honor his memory with the wonderful memories you share of him. May God bless and comfort you and your family

“ I'll always remeber you for who you were and not what you wanted to be, because no matter what happened you were a great person. Throughout life you gave unto others that in which you wished you could of recieved. Life deals bad hands but, you tried to stick it through until there was just no more. Love you man, Stu

“ Annette, we had him only a short time on this earth but he touched so many lives with his love and his ever-reaching desires to help those who could not help themselves. We were both so proud of him and all he had accomplished in such a very short time. It is sad that he had to leave us all so soon but I know he is going to take the stand as our guardian Angel and will guide us all through the days of our lives until he can stand at the gates of Heaven and greet us through with hugs and kisses. But until that happens we will have to move on and live our lives and give him the respect and love he so deserves from us...his family. We love you Cody now, tomorrow and forever. Mammaw & Pappaw.

“ Cody, with your loss you taught me what it is to live an anxiety free life. Your death will not be in vain. I considered you like a brother, and you were family in the eyes of my grandparents and uncle. We were always there for each other and you were my best friend. You were there for me when I had literally no one. I will always love you and you will forever be in my heart my dude.

“ I had the pleasure of knowing Cody from Alee Academy where I am a teacher. I did not have Cody in class, but he and I had many opportunities to interact throughout the school day. We all were very proud of him when he graduated and moved on to become a firefighter/EMT. I am very sorry for your loss but I hope you can find comfort in knowing he touched so many lives and brightened the lives of those around him with his wit and humor. We are all better people for knowing Cody. I pray he has found the peace he deserves.
