Connie is survived by her son, David Hallemeier; her grandson Aaron Hallemeier and great-granddaughter Gilly Hallemeier; her sister, Cecelia VanAlstyne and many adoring nieces and nephews.

Connie was born in Manchester, New Hampshire, the twelfth of 13 children. Connie was married to her first husband Orval Hallemeier, until his untimely death at age 61. Connie enjoyed life as an Air Force wife for 32 years; living in many different places. Her favorite assignment was Hawaii, although she always called New Hampshire home.

Connie married Tom Sechrest and was a devoted wife until Tom's passing, just days before Connie.

Although Connie moved around a lot as an Air Force wife, she worked often, and retired from Valencia Community College.

After Tom's retirement, they moved to Lady Lake. Connie always enjoyed working with ceramics, but in her later years she most enjoyed "Karaoke night" at the American Legion Lodge #347 where she was a member. Connie never sang herself, but really enjoyed listening to everyone else. For Connie, this was real entertainment.
