“ Everyone loved Danny and missed him when he moved back to Florida. He was a big piece of the local fabric here in Savannah, Thunderbolt, and Wilmington Island. His stories were legendary, always a great smile and he never met a stranger. Heaven is in for a bit of a shock as he will certainly live in up the place. We love you Reverend Dan, see you on the next go round.

“ My condolences to the family. I spent a lot of time with Danny and other mutual friends in Savannah many years ago. He was always kind and was quick to smile and have a good laugh.
