“ I hope you know how much you was loved. We share lots of memories from playing cards, trucker stories, construction working stories, football FSU vUM. From the times I would push you around in the wheel barrel when you was a baby. You will be truly missed but never forgotten. Love you bunches.

“ Heaven has a new angel his name is Darrell.
While we didn't have a lot of time with him we came to admire his strength and courage..
His wife Cathy has been part of our family over 40 years she has been like a rock and I know Darrell was a lucky man and he knew it too.
I will cherish my Wednesday overnights and getting to know him personally . And my last one on one with him when he told me how much he appreciated me and adored and appreciated Cathy will stick with me forever..
Free of pain rest peaceful Darrell you will be missed

“ I have been so lucky to know Darrell. Darrell has given our family so much love and brought us closer together. Darrell is gone now but his love remains. He would want us to hold hands with others, he would want us to hug one another and feel his love through these connections. So Cathy, just remember all you have done to make Darrell a happy man and find his love everyday in everything you do. We love you and Darrell always. Diane & Rick

“ Cathy, I am sorry for the loss of your husband. We will remember Darrell (Papaw) always and celebrate him for the all the love and laughter he brought to our lives. I'll miss sitting on the patio listening to his hilarious trucking stories, no matter how many times he'd told it.. we always laughed.

“ Since the day we met we clicked and became family,, We had some great times and Frank Nichols constantly stayed mad at us. He knew it was a bad ideal to send us up the road together and he regret it too.. ,,as I sit here writing this story with a hint of a smile followed by tears there just aren't enough pages to write story after story. You gave me a life full of memories and though you went home you will never be forgotten,.. I love you my brother, my friend
