“ Dennis, or Oley, as I prefer to remember him, loved winning (in fact, he hated to lose). While he and dl were stationed at Fort Knox, KY, we were playing in the base pool hall. Winner kept playing. Loser had to go to the end of the line to play again. When it became our turn, Dennis broke and sunk every ball on the table. I never to a shot and went back to the end of the line while he kept plaining. I was furiojs, but I loved reminding of the time he humiliated me in pool.

“ In bringing Dennis communion over the last several months, I have never experienced a more faith filled man who loved Our Lord. His deep faith, along with his lovely wife Sharon, brightened my day, each time I came to spend a little time with him. Despite the pain he must have been in, he always welcomed me with a smile and looked forward to being together. He is an angel in heaven looking down on us and watching over us. God bless him and all of you.
