“ My Deepest Sympathy to Nolan and the family for their loss. For everyone who had loved Donna, I'm sure she has left a lasting memory with you as she has with me. Donna was just one of these people that was so easy to Love and whether she was family or not, you would always think of her that way. She is one person that I have admired for years now. She has inspired me to never give up no matter what happens in your life. She has had a long battle to fight and she was never willing to give up even at the end. Nolan was her greatest Love and she wasn't ready to leave him. He was her one true love from what her girls say. She even told me that herself when I seen her at her dad's funeral. Heaven has been blessed with another beautiful Angel and I know she is already watching over Nolan and her family. We all love you Donna and you will be missed forever.
