“ My favorite memory of me and Gramps is the time we went to save alot and they didn't have any scooters available. I got to push him around in the wheel chair basket. It was packed and I was weaving in and out crowds of people. He was yelling at people to get out of the way because he couldn't be held responsible! He wasn't driving! We were laughing the whole way through the store! And all the way home! And again every time we told someone! That was such a fun day! We both had cramps from laughing so hard! I have so many more too! I will cherish every single one...
