“ Our deepest condolences go out to her entire family in the loss of dear Edith. We all shall miss her. Her longevity was probably attributable to her willingness to walk around considerable distances even in her later years, her artistic talents, and her Native American heritage. Knowing her and some of her family members contributed in a positive way to my life. I will think of her every time I see an avocado tree (evidence of her love of nature) and pray she walks with the white buffalo in bliss with her Creator. Peace and love to her family from her daughter's friend (& husband).
