“ I have such warm memories of Emma Lillian. I can't remember why I call her by her first name, but it probably has to do with her friendship with Daddy and Mama. I always saw her when she was working or when I was hanging out with Nancy. I remember her smile, even when she was tired and had been at the packing shed for hours, she still shared a smile and a few kind words. She was a member of a wonderful generation of people who loved God and loved their families. They worked hard and made good of whatever situations they found themselves in. They didn't complain, and they didn't take their blessings for granted. She was loved, and she will be missed.

“ Heaven is sweeter today, Linda. Your mother has blessed my life so many times. I always loved her and her Godly example defined her as a hero of our faith. She and my mom were good friends. I will see you on Tuesday. God's blessings to you and your family.
