“ I only met you once, but unfortunately, due to this monster called brain cancer, we had more than a mutual love of Paso Fino horses in common. Eve, your family knows that you are truly cancer-free now, and are safe in the arms of your Lord and Savior. You have truly fought the good fight. You are up there now with my husband, Jeff, who has been there just over a month longer than you. You'll have someone there to talk Paso Finos with, and hopefully you'll let him ride Coral every once in a while. You will be so very missed....

“ My prayers and thoughts are with the Smithgall family. Eve will be missed. She isn't in pain anymore and I know Eve was greeted with open arms in a much better place by three other Preiss members... her Dad, Wayne; my Dad, Bob; and her Grandmother, Gertie.

“ I had the pleasure and joy of meeting Eve only a couple time but have known her mom Miss Barb for awhile. She was a sweet gentle beautiful person and i nhad the honor of caring for some of her family horses. She is at peace now, pain free watching over the ones left behind. But I am sure she is celebrating seeing her dad and horses and other family gone before her. God Bless you and keep you sweet Eve.

“ Ken, Kenny, and Caylee, Eve was such a special person... guess that is why the Lord needed her so soon. She loved you all so much... you could see it when she talked about you all and she will be watching over you. She was such a warrior fighting her cancer but I know she was happy to see her Dad again. May the Lord comfort you and help you thru this time. God bless. KABS

“ I worked with Eve, as a Nurse Tech / Emt at Munroe Regional back in the late 1990s, she was a great person, and a compassionate nurse! Eve was always fun to be around, and would try to help if you needed someone to talk to! I am both shocked, and greatly saddened for your loss, and for the loss of the community for losing such a great person! I used to joke with her all the time, and we would laugh when I told her I used to get pulled over by Kenny, and Officer Gray when I was a teenage motorcycle hotdog! God bless, and may the peace of Jesus Christ take your tears!
