“ One time during a visit I made a comment "something like" having a second dog would be like insurance because our dog was near end of life and Debbie would be so devastated. It wasn't long after that Fran called her sister Debbie and told her to come pickup her new puppie. She found another yorkie and bought it for her. Marley is still with us today along with a few more ha ha. Frannie would do anything for family and friends.

God rest your soul.
