“ To my dear sweet Eileen: There's nothing we can say that we haven't said a thousand times over the last 40 years. We love you and Frank very very much. We have been together and experienced lots of fun and lots of sadness. This time once again we were together for the ultimate sadness. We thought we were starting a new adventure with all our wonderful new friends together but I guess our sweet teddy bear had other plans. He was going to experience his from another place. The hole in Don's and my heart today is so big I don't know yet how I'm going to fill it. What will I do you ask it will be so hard for you. There will be loneliness, sadness wondering how to go on but you will get your strength and all of a sudden you will say how come I had fun today. You will learn that it's okay to laugh and enjoy things even tho many times you think that you wish Frank were there and enjoying them too. For certain you will think wait till I tell Frank about this. Then you will realize he knew before you. I have a feeling you're going to be strong when you need to be you will cry when you want, laugh when you can and bring others up when they need it. It was a terrible two days and nights watching Frank go through what he did it and was just as bad seeing you endure the pain as well. Then comes the light your precious son Adam taking charge and giving you a sigh of relief. The decisions that need to be made you would make together. As the four of us sat there that night 2 on each side of his bed hoping he would change his mind and decide to stay , one of the sweetest things to me and a show of true love and friendship was Don taking a box of Kleenex and continually wiping his buddies face and little tears that were coming out the side of Franks eyes. So guys if you have good buddies hold them tight treat them right because we never know. I know that everyone knows the wonderful man on the outside but we were fortune enough to know the giving caring funny man on the inside. Don and I were so lucky to have the two of you in our lives thank you Eileen for loving us and loving your man with all your heart we love you and your family and we're here for you we will be cheering you on while you carve out a new life for yourself I think you're going to make everyone very proud Love eternally Don and Betty

“ I am saddened and dismayed by Frank's passing. He was a man of great integrity and knew the meaning of friendship and tolerance. I had been introduced to Frank and Eileen 25 years ago through my own dearly departed spouse. We double dated, we bowled, we had fabulous dinners together and loved baseball. In life, there are people you meet and they remain as acquaintances, then there are people you meet that become extended family. This was our relationship that of extended family. We shared parts of our lives with each other, and if there was ever anything he or Eileen could do to help; you could always count on them doing the right thing. I will miss him, but through memories he will live on for me, he was too good of a human to ever forget.

“ This world has suffered a great loss with the passing of Frank Granit. He was smart, kind and the love he had for his family is unparalleled. His beloved Eileen, being a remarkable person herself, will surely keep the memory of Frank in the hearts and minds of their beautiful grandchildren. No greater love have I ever seen than the one Frank and Eileen shared.
