“ My Dad. His laugh could light up my day like nothing else. As an adult, I cherish the relationship we established. We spoke every week without fail. We shared basic frustrations, excitement, goals and plans. I'm lost at the moment, I already miss our chats. I'm so thankful for our recent visit where I held his hand and we shared our love for each other and said our final good bye. I love you Dad.

“ My Uncle, who was always so funny and loving. I'll never forget him calling me, Rosie and Rose bud., I'll never forget him, his deacation to family, work and Aunt April, he loved all his children, and delt with life's situations with Papatience ,and a smile. We chatted alot, and more so after Aunt April passed. He had so much to say, this quiet man who had a laugh that WOULD make the hardest person smile. Respect and Love you will be missed.

“ I've know Gary since I was 4 or 5 years old. He was friends with my step-father and my mom. It was before he met April, when he was still married to his first wife. He would visit us after he came home from long trips on the road. He would always make time to have conversation with me and share his dinner or dessert. He made me feel very special. He came to stay with us for a short time with Chris, Doug and Steve. I've always had a special place in my heart for him. I always felt his was part of my family even before he met and married April (my sister). He met April when I was about 8 years old and he became my brother-in-law. We spoke after April passed away and He told me he had always loved me..... he was such a special man. I loved his voice and I will never forget his laugh. The best laugh.
