“ Away I cannot say and I will not say That she is dead, she is just away. With a cheery smile and a wave of hand She has wandered into an unknown land; And left us dreaming how very fair Its needs must be, since she lingers there. And you-oh you, who the wildest yearn From the old-time step and the glad return- Think of her faring on, as dear In the love of there, as the love of here Think of her still the same way, I say; She is not dead, she is just away. James Whitcomb Riley, American poet (1849 - 1916)

“ Hi Sue, Sorry for your loss. I undertand how you must feel. I lost my mother back in 93, my husband in 94 and my Dad in 07. The holidays get a little sad still. God bless you. Love, Terrie

“ Our deepest sympathy. Mothers are so special. When they go to the other side, a part of our hearts go with them. Know that you will miss her deeply, but that a part of her is also with you.
