“ The Final Ride Tribute to my friend. Glenn McKinley 1952-2015 As the thunder crashes and the lightning flashes you throw on your leather and prepare for the ride. You know it's going to be a long one so you said your good byes and I love yous shook the hands of your friends and kissed your loved ones. Your hearts longing to feel the wind in your face and leave the pain behind. Your heart is full you've had a good run here on earth. You found the love of your soul mate and best friend a woman you would walk through fire for and never ask why. You were always ready with a kind word or a helping hand never having anything bad to say about anyone. A spirit so gentle and a friend to all enjoy your final ride and go with love and know you won't complete this journey alone one day we will all be riding beside you. Ride on brother you will be missed but we know you found peace and were ready to take this ride. Glenn McKinley 1952-2015 Rest in peace my friend. By Darrell Hatcher Jr.

“ There are no words to even explain the sorrow we feel for the loss of Glenn. He was a very special person and he was John's cousin and best friend all his life. They grew up together and had many fun times and joys during there life together. He will be missed more than ever and we will always remember him as a great man who loved animals and was a very hard worker, he loved life and had many dreams . The beat thing of all is that he truly had a wonderful wife that truly loved and cared for him, no matter what. She grounded him and help him become the man he was, God bless you Libby, I know how hard it is, but God will help you get threw this pain, We love you. John and Linda “ Heaven rejoices as another soldier comes home...Glenn was loved and respected by so many people. His life was busy and full. He was a gentleman and loved life... although taken too, His life was memorable. He was well loved. He loved his wife and children with all his heart & soul. The last thing He said to me and I will say to you from him...."I'll see you in Heaven". He truly wants his loved ones and friends to meet him there one day. Glenn: until we meet again. Family: His love surrounds you. May Jesus walk hand in hand with you daily.

“ It was hard to say goodbye to someone you have known all your life. I will miss Glenn and his shy smile, that funny quirky sense of humor and big heart. I pray for comfort for Libby, John, Aunt Ellie, Bobby, Dale, Janice and my cousins. Love and hugs to you all. God grant you peace and joyful memories as you go through these next days.

“ Uncle Glenn had a presence about him that was strong and loving. Dakota doesn't get close to very many people but Uncle Glenn was such a gentle man and Dakota warmed right up to him. He will be missed dearly. Aunt Libby, I cannot fathom what you are going through but you are one of the strongest women I know. I love you. We will all help you get through this.
