“ What can you say about someone like Herman? He could be your best friend, partner in crime, strong shoulder and an all around sweet man. In the short time I knew Herman he taught me so much, I will miss my cornbread package he would send home with me, the soup beans and esp his green beans. He was a man of many talents from cooking to fixing anything and everything in his shop. Love you bunches and you will always be in my heart. Thank you so much for finding my marbles.... God Bless his family and friends who will greatly miss a wonderful man.

“ Uncle Herman shared his love of iron skillets (of all shapes and sizes) with my sister, Sandi. He described to Sandi and I his methods of cleaning and seasoning to keep them in top shape. My prayers to Norma and the family during this time, I am thankful that Jesus promised He prepared a place for each of us who knew him. I am confident Uncle Herman has a room Jesus built with his name on the entrance.
