“ Dear Mr. Hunter, Daniel and Tammy,

I'm so sorry to hear about the passing of Mrs. Hunter. My time in her class was one that was full of learning and laughing. (Every time I see a Richard Gere movie, I think of Mrs. Hunter :D). She was simply effervescent. And her character (and your character, Mr. Hunter) showed through in the quality of the character of your children, who were not only brilliant, but kind and good to all who encountered to them.

May the comfort of the Lord envelop you during this time of your loss. May His Grace be your strength.

“ I was really sad to hear about Jane. She was my 11th grade teacher for English but she became more than just a teacher. After i graduated she became a very close friend. I remember spending time at her house and we'd talk for hours. She was one of the most influential people I've ever had in my life. I know her struggle with cancer was a real one but i dont remember ever hearing her complain about how she was feeling. The times i spent with her and talking on the phone, along with all the letters we wrote each other will always be something I'll treasure in my heart forever. Her love for the Lord was so big and you could always tell by the smile on her face. My thoughts and prayers are with the family during this time. Love you Jane. -Tabitha
