Obituary of Jeffrey Meyer

A loving son, brother uncle, great uncle and friend to all. Jeffrey Meyer is survived by the many who loved him dearly. A culinary craftsman and a committed football fan, Jeff's hospitable demeanor, gentle tone, and enduring smile will forever be imprinted on the hearts of those who knew him. Even in his departure, Jeff reminds us in his own disarming and genuine way that life on earth is finite and temporary yet God is love and transcendent, never absent from our journey. So love endlessly, forgive freely and don't fear anything. We will gather together again soon enough in him. In loving memory.

“ Hi today marks 3 weeks since you left us my heart still is so heavy. It is mom and dad's anniversary I think it is going to be sad for mom. If you are with Dad celebrating give mom some encouragement to get through the day. It is snowing here alot. Julie will b there in a couple of days please keep the weather good for their travels, to bring you guys home. I miss you and love you. Talk later

“ Hi today is coming Saturday, mom said the weekends are the worst. This is the last weekend that you and her and Zeke will be in Fla. You guys will be on your way back on Fri so please help that the weather is good for Julie and you guys to come home. It stormed last night and Zeke did not like it at all, tried to get in bed with mom. Talk to you later. Love you

“ Hi well just keeping you updated that in a week Julie will b flying to get grandma to bring you Zeke and her home here to get you closer to your final resting place this spring in Iowa. Chrissann has a spot that mom is taking, so you will b close to Darlene and grandma and grandpa. Don't know how we are going to get her through this so will need your abundant love to help us. Zeke misses you mom said he doesn't understand where you are he keeps looking at the door for you to walk in. Love and miss you. Talk to you soon

“ Happy New year we are now in 2017. The last couple of months of 2016 were very sad. You went into the hospital in Nov and you passed Dec 20. We weren't with you but I hope you know we were there in heart. Today is football day and of course I am sure you remember all the times we had spaghetti from lido's and strawberry pie. The Vikings are playing the Chicago bears and guess what we are winning. We love you talk with you soon. Mom is trying so hard to be brave but she is so heart broken. We hope she and Zeke can recover some here in a couple of weeks. Mom is with Missy and fady and kids for awhile today. Love you Don and Jill

“ Jeff was my uncle. I am the oldest of his many nieces. I remember his laugh and smile. He was very active in sports, he loved to cook and he loved his animals. I can still hear him calling out SNOOPS! I wish my Grandma, mom and Aunt my condolences. We are missing a son, a brother, an uncle and a friend. May God guide you all in this difficult time. My prayers will always be with all of you.

“ Jeff...you will be missed by so many! I'll never forget working for you at the Samaritan Hospital coffee shop...you were so patient with me and taught me a lot...more than just customer service and how to make a mean Denver Omelet! I love you!

“ To my brother Jeff you are going to be dearly missed. You were always a fun loving kid. You loved sports and you followed the Minnesota sports twins, vikings, and wild, sometimes you would tell me how bad they were, and you were correct. You loved your dogs and they were your best friends. I will never forget how selfless you had been taking care of dad until he died and then taking care of mom. You always thought of them before yourself. You are now our angel and will watch out for everyone in the family. We will take care of mom as best we can. We will see you on the other side some day again. You can always come and visit and let us know what you are thinking. We are missing you We love you Love your sister and brother. Jill and Don
