“ My Dad, you will be so missed. You were my friend, mentor, hero and most importantly my Father. The one I looked up to and wanted to be like. We have lost a good man. I know Mom is happy to have you back in her arms. Give her a kiss for me. We love you both.

“ Dad I don't know if words can even convey how much I loved you and how much you meant to me. You had a way to make people feel special. Your sense of humor was a wonderful gift you shared with us. We all know how much you loved us. You are now with your mom, your soulmate, whom you loved with all your heart from the day you met her. I feel that is a lesson all of us kids learned from you. I know you taught me the value of family and family is more important then anything else. I will miss our conversations, I will miss seeing your. Love you dad, and I hope you give mom a kiss and hug for me.

“ Dear Brother Jack I will never forget your stories of how you wrestled with Hughie in bed before we were married when he thought you were Grace or how you would get behind the sofa and listen to his billing and cooing with his girlfriends. Good thing mom was there to keep him from wringing your neck. They were fun days and I could go on and on telling of the numerous stories that only you could tell. We came from a home that inspired many great times and the love that it generated. Because of that background it naturally followed into the A team that... you and Doris instilled into your family. I know that Doris is waiting there to throw her arms around you and tell you how much she loves you and go arm and arm to your heavenly home. God bless you always I love you brother.

“ Dear family, Oh how I will miss him. He always made me laugh and gave me much joy. Uncle Jack and Aunt Doris were always so welcoming to me and Larry when we stop and visit with them in Mt. Dora. It was always a fun time. I remember the first wedding I ever went to was when Uncle Jack and Aunt Doris married. My what a reunion it was in heaven with the family saw one another again. See you soon. Love and lots of hugs.
