“ I first met Peter at work. I was frustrated with a program on the computer, and he showed up to help. We started a conversation and instantly hit it off and became best friends. He took me under his wing, and helped me get promoted at Publix. He was an excellent teacher, amazing friend, and big hearted person who was always there for you. Under his tough exterior, he truly cared about so many people. My condolences to his family, especially his sons, father, and sister whom contacted him often.

I have too many stories to share of us having fun everywhere we went, him always giving me the last spring roll at ichiban (even though I would lie and say I didn't like them...he knew), him driving across the county when my car battery died, us driving a car hooked to the battery because it broke down, him giving me extra blankets to keep me warm, him keeping a jacket handy in case I forgot mine, him always having a fresh pot of coffee ready for me every morning at work, he dropped food off at my door if he saw it and knew it was my favorite, he'd open my work locker and put candy or something I needed in there as a surprise, and he always made sure I was safe. There's so many stories to share but the one thing that stood out the most was how much he cared. He will be forever missed, and can't wait to see him again!!

“ I got to see baby Peter when they got home from the hospital. I rode my bike all the way to their apartment just to see my newest cousin.
