“ Think of him very often, So much part of my life, We had a lot of deep talks about life and of course work. The life talks were our favorites. He would ask me to come see him and just talk about stuff. I have so many thoughts I want to ask him about these days. The world is so different than the last days of the good old days my friend. Came close to being with you. I promise I will earn these many 2nd chances I have been given. And put in the knowledge & wisdom you provided me.
