“ Grandpa passed one day before the 12th anniversary of Grandma's passing. I like to imagine she was tapping her foot and telling him to get a move on, but at 99 years old, who can blame him for taking his sweet time?! Every time I eat baked beans and brown bread, I'll think about my Mainer grandparents. Grandpa loved Maine and even when his memory start to fail him slightly, he was able to recall every name, date, and place during our family history recording sessions. I'll treasure those recordings and if anyone would like me to email them, please reach out.

Sincerely,
