“ I remember Julie well. She was the kind of student teachers love to have: willing to work, respectful, cheerful, kind, and friendly. Our sympathy goes out to the family, and our prayers go up to God that He may send comfort and strength. I haven't seen Julie in many years, but the words of the obituary lead me to believe that her faith was strong and her witness to others was loving and true. Rest in the assurance that she is in God's presence. The tears and broken hearts are ours now, not hers.
