“ My Sister Kat I've come to realize my sister was loved by so many people. She had her own unique relationship with each one of them. My relationship with Kathy was a sister. I was born 16 months after her and from what I hear she was not really happy by my entrance. (But that's a whole other story.) She has been a constant in my life from day one. Childhood we were called "Kathy and Pam" especially by our wonderful family. Somehow it just sounded right. I feel really sad that I feel like I lost my "Kathy". I did but the memories that belong to just me and her are precious. Childhood, teenager, young women and then into middle age. She has been by my side through the good, bad and the ugly. I will miss her terribly. Kathy lived a full life and preserve rd through each chapter. She lived her life on her terms and followed her own terms and convection's. She had a pure soul and loved her family. If you were fortunate enough to come into her life I'm sure you felt her kindness. Dang, I will miss that women like crazy.

“ I extend my heartfelt sympathy to the Planthaber family. I know Mrs. Planthaber will be sorely missed and fondly remembered. You can find great comfort in the hope for the future present in the bible. At Isaiah 25: 8, the Bible promises a time when God "will swallow up death forever." Also, Acts 24:15 boldly states, "there is going to be a resurrection." The resurrection this verse talks about will give us the opportunity to see our lost loved ones again on Earth. I know it will be a joyous time when you can reunite with Mrs. Planthaber! I invite you to visit JW.ORG for more information on this comforting hope.
