“ My Dear Sweet Granny, Today we remeber you on your Birthday, the boys and I miss you so much. We wanted to realease pretty pink ballons for you today but the rain prevented us from doing that. I promised Dustin that we would do it when he came home if the waether was better. Our pink ballons will symbolize pretty pink ROSES, because you will always be our ROSE. My rides home from work are so hard sometimes, I wish I could pick up the phone and call you and tell you about the new things Remington is doing or about the day that Dustin had at school. I know that you are watching over all of us. We miss and love you so much!!!! I hope that you are dancing at your big Birthday patry they are having for you.

“ Oh, my dear, sweet Libby. My sister. My friend. I miss you so much. I miss your laughter and your sweet smile. It seemed that no matter what was going on in our lives we could always find something to laugh about. You were so easy to be around- so easy to talk to. I miss your phone calls and your visits. We always ended up o the porch. Thats where we would open up and do most of the sharing of whats going on in our lives. We would reminisce about the past, and wonder what the future held for us. Oh, if that porch could talk, it could tell some tales- you would certainly be entertained. Little did we know that those times would end so soon. I still find it hard to believe that you're gone. I think you knew how much I loved you. You were a wonderful person that loved her family dearly. My prayers are with your family. Life for them will never be the same. I want them to know that I love them, and it's through them that you still live. I love you, my sister, my friend. Rest in peace. Love, Carol January 21, 2011.

“ I came from Elm City, NC in 1955 and I meet a girl name Libby. Six (6) months later we were married at the age of 18 & 17 and remained so for fifty-five (55) years. I could not have met a better person. I will always have her with me. She was always there for me. Save a place for me. I will always love you.

“ Mommy, i promise to live my life to make you proud, and remember everything you have ever taught me and i hope when i have a daughter she is as good as of girl i was and i can raise her as you raised me. Most of the time i can still feel your warmth but when i dont its the hardest. It still doesnt seem real and its not far either. However i know you are now with eric and the rest of the family waiting for all of us here when its our time. I miss you and love you so much, you were my mom , my best friend and my grandma. You still are but its hard not having you here to talk to and all that. however i can still talk to you but now instead of you giving me the answer i have to look and find the answers. i love and miss you always and forever i will meet you in haven when its my time.
