“ My father, David, and Lollie's husband, Bob, were business partners for many years. I have fond memories of both Bob and Lollie from when I was a child growing up in Pompano. Lollie encouraged my sister and I to get involved in local plays when we were little girls and Bob was always making jokes or playing tricks on me. We kept in touch when they moved to The Villages but didn't get to see them often. I am so sorry to hear of Lollie's passing but know that she is now reunited with the love of her life.
