

Margaret Clark

May 10, 2013

Obituary of Margaret Clark

Margaret M. Clark, nee Margaret McCluskie, died peacefully on Friday, May 10th in Leesburg at Alterra Clare Bridge Cottage of Leesburg, where she had been residing for the last four years. Margaret suffered from Alzheimer's and cancer. Her husband, Frank Clark, preceded her in death by three years. They had many enjoyable and fruitful years in the Hawthorne Community in Leesburg.

Margaret was born in Altoona, PA, the daughter of William and Miriam McCluskie. She graduated from Altoona High School and from Indiana College in Indiana, PA where she earned a degree in music. Music became her occupation for she taught music and especially the violin in Oil City, PA and played violin for some of the major orchestras in the eastern United States.

She is survived by her sister, Jean Henry of Newark, DE; her brother, Robert McCluskie of Allendale, NJ; three nieces in New Jersey; a nephew in Maryland and a number of beloved in the next generation.

Ms. Clark will soon lie beside her husband in a selected spot in Hawthorne Memorial Gardens. A memorial service for her and her plentiful, meaningful life will be held at Hawthorne on June 5, 2013 at 10:00 am.