“ Mom as I called her , Loved my Service Dog Whiskey. When we would all go somewhere together , Whiskey would sit in the backseat with her and she would share her french fries with him or what ever food we might be eating .And if it was cold her and Whiskey would wrap up in the blanket together. This is just one of many fond memories I have of her.

Whiskey and mom. She sure had him spoiled. Sneaking him French fries if we was going somewhere in the car. Or snuggling with him if it was cold in a blanket. Just one of the fond memories out of many.
