“ How many wonderful meals, evening coffees lunches out, dinners in and out - my goodness, over such a long time! Tom and you gave so much to Charles and me by sharing your lives with us, and then continuing to include me in them. What an example of love you have set for us. I have missed you and Tom so much - I know that Charles has already welcomed you, Marg. God blessed your family through you; may He bless those left behind and help them through this sad time.

“ Tom, we are so incredibly saddened to hear about Marg's passing, but glad she is at peace. I felt it was fate that put us together at a table for six on the Amsterdam going to the Antarctic. And then a third couple never showed up, which was just fine with the four of us, because we seemed to have so much in common and always found plenty to talk about. Then, being able to share another South American cruise and a Danube river cruise, what a treat that was. We feel like we've been friends forever. We will never forget Marg or you and the good times we shared. God bless you and your family.
