“Margie came to the end of a life well-lived. And her Savior has set her free. She would want no rites in a gloom-filled room, Not her, she would say, "Rejoice with me". Everyday, for a year, filled with sickness for her, She managed to meet guests with a smile. The clown that she once thought she wanted to be, She lived out each day for awhile. The lives that she touched with joy along the way Will miss her spunk and her tease. But the suffering is gone, a new body is hers, And we're grateful God took her with ease. She's taken the journey that we all must take, It is one each must go alone. It's all a divine part of the Master's plan, And, today, sweet Margie is Home. by Pastor George

“Our thoughts and prayers are with you during this difficult time. Marjorie was a very special woman. We always enjoyed hearing her stories and especially about what her next travel adventure was going to be. We also enjoyed all the fun games that she organized during our family reunions. She will be missed greatly. God bless, The Stevenor Family Howard, Barbara, Scott, Kim, Paige, Justin and Joshua
