“ I would like to extend my heartfelt sympathy for the family. I would also like to tell you about a "little incident" that was quite humorous the brief time I worked in the same office in Tampa with Martha. It was my first day of work in that office. I was so determined to ask a question & planned on heading right into an office Martha & our boss was in... well, I walked right into a glass wall! Martha was shocked, but I was not phased, & I found the correct opening. Martha had recently "friended" me on Facebook... and I was thinking she thought of me whenever she saw a clothing commercial on TV where a newbie in an office walks into a glass wall! I think of Martha whenever I see that commercial! I did see her randomly over the years as she was a good friend with my sister. She was a great baker! I hope you reflect back on all your good memories of such a fun lady! Kellie Jo
