Marty, Thanks for glimpses into your life-story over these past 30 plus years. You touched more people than you realize- anonymously- of course- in one or more of my books. “ Marty and I shared a birthday together. I always looked forward each year to wishing him a Happy Birthday through Face Book on January 24th of each year. This past January 24th was no exception and Marty's response back to me was: "Rick, have a very Happy Birthday today. It's truly a great day to have been born on. Don't you agree? Enjoy your day, but NOT too much. At our age recovery takes much longer!" Marty was a fighter even when facing adversity. I share comfort in knowing Marty is no longer suffering. I send with love and remembrance my thoughts of sympathy and support to as you begin your journey without Marty. Please accept my heartfelt condolences.
