“ Aunt Mary, You have always been an inspiration. Your kind, generous, independent, loving, humble, and free spirit ways will never be forgotten. You taught me to be proud of who I was, how I looked and to love myself, always. Your words of wisdom and letters of love will be greatly missed. May I always wear a smile and enjoy life no matter the circumstance, just as you did. You will be greatly missed by the members of this family...until we get to meet again. Susie, Carol and family, Although distance in miles keeps us apart, I have kept you all close in my heart and prayers. I love you!!

“ So hard to say goodbye to my wonderful aunt Mary after all these years. She inspired me to write a family newspaper for several years as a teenager, which captures hundreds of memories during those times that would have been forgotten. She also inspired me to go for my master's degree in writing as an adult, thanks to her lifelong passion for writing and her success as a newspaper columnist. Many years ago, Mary gave me as a gift a gold emblem the size of a half-dollar that featured the Statue of Liberty and hung on a stainless steel chain. I decided to hang the emblem from my Corolla's rearview mirror for good luck, and to always have a connection with Mary no matter where I traveled. When I bought my current Honda Civic many years later, I made sure that the gold emblem dangled from the rearview mirror once again. Sometimes when I drive and the emblem catches the sun a certain way, beams of light bounce around in my car. Now when I see that light dancing, I will be reminded of Mary and all of the good times we shared over the years. Though she may no longer be with us physically, she will always shine on in my heart. She has made my life a better one, and for that I will always be grateful.

“ One of the many wonderful articles Mary wrote in her weekly "News Tribune" column was "Teachers Are Forever." Writers too are forever, especially Mary, who was one of the finest. She will be forever in our hearts and thoughts, not only as a writer, but as a loving sister, sister-in-law, aunt, mother, grandmother, friend & companion-----just a wonderful human being, nothing less.
Tearfully, Andy ,Dottie, Adam, Claudia & Evan
