“ My deepest sympathies go out to Aunt Lou and all the rest of Uncle Jack's family, which I did not realize was so very large. God blessed him many times over with people to love and more importantly, people who loved him. Two memories of Uncle Jack will always be with me: One was when I cut my big toe so bad playing ball in the back yard. He was going to put it in kerosene and I threw a fit, knowing how bad that was going to hurt. Finally after him threatening to whip my behind the toe went in the kerosene and he was right! - coolness and no pain. The second was when he finally let me cut okra after trying to explain to "hardhead" I wouldn't like it. Again, he was right! Love to all of you, especially Aunt Lou.
