“ I am very sorry for the loss of your mother. Praying that God will send comfort and strength for all of the family. Memories of good times and the special qualities of our loved ones carry us through the grief and sorrow and keep us close in a special way. That old song, "Precious Memories," has much truth, and we never truly lose those we keep in our hearts. It has been many years since some of you came through my English classes, but I remember you and hope that faith will sustain you.
