

Owen Tracy Wilbanks

August 24, 1962 - April 13, 2022

Owen Tracy Wilbanks passed away suddenly, at his second home, his Pikes Electric work truck. He was born in Clermont, Florida and was one of the very few, rare floridian guys. He was the son of Betty Sue Lamons and OT Wilbanks. He was one of the most kind and honest people on this planet and would put anyone else before himself, no matter how hard it was. He was, and always will be loved for an eternity by his family and friends. No matter where he was, his jokes always kept people laughing and was a pure jokester by nature. He was "the man of his household", a proud army veteran, a patriot, a handyman that could fix anything, and a dad by heart. He also had a side to him that adored computer games, Spongebob, and the Rango movie. He loved all his pets, but mostly his "son" Apollo. Owen loved his wife, and would give loving stares to her, but also loved, adored and admired his baby, Kelly Wilbanks, his older one, Kayla Wilbanks, and his special girl, Shel Wilbanks. He also loved his sister, and second mother Janice Strickland and more than brother-in-law Jack Strickland. He worried but loved his little brother Charles Chuck Floyd. He loved his niece and nephew, siblings at heart, Daniel Strickland and Betsy Mae Wilson, plus their family. Tracy had so much fun with his wife's Brazilian side of the family and they all hold him close to their hearts. He was extremely dedicated to his job as an electrician, at Pikes Electric and the warranty department at The Villages. He was employed at Pikes for a little more than 25 years.

We were so lucky to have Tracy in our lives, no matter how much it hurts, we will always wait for him to come home.

“ My prayers go out to you Solange and your family. 14 years Tracy and I worked together and everytime he walked in the door I knew I was going to end up laughing about something. See you again my friend. Debbie and Ed Prosiensk

“ We have so many memories it would be impossible to pick just one! Tracy walking thru the front door for a cup of coffee or lunch, calling to tell us about something Kelly had done (with that pride in his voice)! We finally got to meet Solange, Kelly, & Shel and they quickly became part of our little "family" with us & our group of friends. We are all so very happy we have pics & videos of our "get-togethers " and Tracy being Tracy! Our lives will never be the same, and our hearts are just broken! Rest well Tracy... we'll see you again... With Love, Brent & Lisa Addison
