“ To Grandma Pat,

You filled all my best childhood memories with warmth, laughter, adventure, and joy. Instilled in me your affection for the open water - from windswept hair and smiles cruising across the lake, to quiet moments dockside with family, watching in wonder as the minnows swam by. In your company, life always felt renewed and exciting, refreshing as the lakeside air. So much more than my summertime escape. A strong willed woman and a fighter. You inspired me with how you held true to your beliefs and always spoke your mind. An infectious sense of humor with a touch of the best kind of sass. You extended your love as my family grew, to my Husband Matt, and our two Daughters Aria and Aurora. Forever their Bisnonna. Always thinking of us, never missing a holiday. You had a way of filling up our hearts with your presence, even when we were apart, and the joy of the memories we made will continue to live on in all of our hearts forever. Where does the time go? I will miss you so so much.

Love,
Your Granddaughter, Kaitlyn

“ I'll never forget you, Grandma Pat.

I remember spending time with you at Lake George, jumping in the lake, enjoying the mornings there.

Any time we were together you were warm and kind. Your laughter was especially contagious, everyone around couldn't help but smile when they heard it.

Playing board games, making breakfast and enjoying a day out with your family, I'll treasure the time we spent together.

You'll be missed dearly, and the world is a bit sadder without you.

Love you Grandma

“ Pat...my Aunt but also more like my Mom. You raised me. You were always there for me. You never dwelled on the past. Always moved forward. Honorary Grandma Pat to my children and you so deserved that title. You were fierce and humble. My champion. You loved life good or bad. You were kind and giving. You imparted to me your values and wisdom. You never lied to me. I have so very many precious memories from a child in Brooklyn to my adulthood in Albany. You were truly a remarkable woman. So much laughter. So much fun. Thank you for all your strength and support through all my years. Thank you for sharing your stories and your life. Thank you for taking me in. I will keep you close to my heart always and forever. Rest peacefully. All my love, Genevieve
