“ Dear Lytle....I was so saddened about Greg's death. I did not know he had been sick for a while. He lived next door to me for ten years until we moved to Young's Road in 1960. I used to play dress-up with his precious mother. We all played cowboys and indians...Winnie Griffith, Dozier, the Logans...and we loved Greg's train set that took up the whole breezeway! He was a wonderful man and he was so crazy about you....I know you and the children will always have such wonderful memories to hold on to. God Bless each of you.

“ Lytle: I am so sorry. I can still hear your stories about Greg all these years later. When you spoke of him, it was always with such affection and happiness. It seems just such a short time ago in some respect, but a lifetime of memories, children, and love together ensued in those years since Brenau. Again, I am so very very sorry. I know he was your treasure and your love for him was palpable. A life lived together that was precious from the viewpoint of all who knew you and Greg. Carol Beach Carol Beach
