*I only discovered Rob Grill and The Grass Roots this year and I'm 76!! I was a 60s child and followed The Beatles, Rolling Stones etc. How on earth did I miss them. It broke my heart to learn that he died so young.
I think I have watched and continue to watch every video on YouTube. I just wish they would have the dates on them. You Americans were so lucky to have him in your lives for so long. He is still loved.*

“ Mary Kathleen

I have such fond memories of Rob. We met in Minneapolis - maybe the tour mentioned - in 1974. My girlfriend and I joined he and the band at their table for drinks and conversation. We hit it off almost immediately singing and dancing at the club. I joined him at his hotel room for the night and he invited me to continue with him for the tour. He did seem lonely and was so very handsome and charming. I had to go back to school but never forgot him! I wrote to him for awhile to his address in Thousand Oaks. What a kind, beautiful man with an angel's voice.

Mary Kathleen: Its been 14 years Rob Grill passed and I just found out this year 2025, a week before Easter that he had passed in 2011! I have cried my eyes out, almost ingredients the Grass Roots twice, but something happened both times & couldn't go. I'm so jealous! Weren't you nervous around him o go up there to his room? Staying ALL NIGHT AND him asking you to go on tour with him was a BIG DEAL! HAD IT BEEN ME, I would have fallen on the floor! LOL! I loved him & the Grass Roots since 1967 and my sister and I harmonized together on their songs. I will always love him/them. Please tell me if he made you feel comfortable staying with him or not. I'll keep it to myself. Hope you are doing well. R.I.P. ROB, your loving woman. Donna Tanner-bluecornflower2020@gmail.com

“ I had the pleasure of meeting Rob and his drummer back in '82 where I was working. He gave me a personal autograph and took my name and said he would leave it with the guys at the door and I could get in free. You never forget someone that nice. To his family, along with all who read this tribute, may you know God's matchless grace and mercy in a wonderful way, both now, and always..... Romans 10:9 - 13.

“ My heart is so heavy learning of Rob's passing. He was one special man. So gifted, kind, wonderful Dad and Husband to Nancy. I followed him since the late sixties, and through out his career. The Grass Roots were my favorite band growing up and even now. His voice was angelic. Rob was so handsome and combined with his music.... He was the perfect musician to watch and play! May he rest peacefully and may God bless him. Prayers to his family. 🙏

“ Rob Grill Memorial - July 30, 2011

I am honored to be here today... not only to minister at Rob's memorial service... but to also be here as his friend. Thank you, Nancy... for giving me this opportunity.

Family, friends and fans We are here today to honor a great man... Robert Frank "Rob" Grill... who not only was an excellent singer and an accomplished musician but was also a very down-to-earth humble father, husband and friend... who loved life to its fullest... and wanted to do good... and make a lot of people happy... not only in this room... but to the millions of his fans all over the world.

Rob and I go back almost 40 years to the day. I was his manager in the early '70s. I remember walking into Rob's house after being interviewed by his band partner at the time, Warren Entner... for the gig as manager of the Grass Roots. Warren had given me the ok at his house but handed me off to Rob for his final approval. Entner said, "Hey if Grill approves... you got the job." I thought "Oh great! I just hope I don't have to deal with a big rock star's ego.... along with a 'I'm better-than-you attitude.'" Boy was I ever proved wrong for thinking that about Grill!

Rob welcomed me into his house with open arms. I could not believe what a nice guy he was. Within one minute he made me feel completely at home!

He offered me something to eat and drink... and before I knew it I was relaxing on his couch. I said to myself..."I thought this was supposed to be a job interview? This is more like a house party!"

Rob showed me all his fish (including live piranha) in his fantastic looking fish tank. He asked me if I wanted to shoot pool. He showed me his stuffed wide-mouth bass collection on his wall and also his wall of lifetime career achievements.

We sat around that night and listened to just about every record he owned. He never.... not even once ... asked me one question about my ability to be his band's manager.

Here I was sitting in a man's house that literally sold over 20 million records, received two platinum albums, two gold albums and thirteen gold singles and he was treating me like family! I had never met anyone like him... in all the years that I worked in the entertainment business and afterwards. There is only one Rob Grill. God threw away the mold when He was done with him.

As we walked to his door much later that evening I didn't even know if I had the job. We never talked about it once.

Grill just shook my hand, gave me a hug and said.... "See you next Friday at the airport, Marty. We have to be in Minneapolis that night to start a new tour."

I learned over the next year or so working with Rob that we were kindred spirits in more ways than one. We had similar situations happen in our lives... We both were bitterly divorced... We each had one child who we adored... We were both very lonely... and extremely broken-hearted.

We liked to put on the "I am fine face" and pretend nothing bothered us. But eventually we shared each other's burdens and became very good friends. He never once treated me as only his employee.

Most of the guys in the band at that time had wives or special girlfriends who met them at the gate when we arrived back in LAX from a concert tour... but not for Rob and me.

We always lagged behind together... sometimes being the last ones off of the plane... because we knew no one was going to be there to greet us... so we wasted our time on the plane pretending it didn't really matter or did it bother us much.

However, sometimes Grill... after finally leaving the security of the airplane... would run up to a garbage can in the airport lobby and hug it and say, "Oh hi honey... thanks for coming to meet me." It was kind of funny... we would laugh... yet it really was very sad.... but he got through it.

After my years as manager, Rob and I stayed somewhat in contact with each other. I unfortunately went off the deep end ... but Rob stayed as focused as he could... to keep his music career moving forward.

I ran into him at a gig in Baltimore one time. I had just gotten out of prison for cocaine possession but had become a Christian throughout that time.

God changed me into a new man... one that I always wanted to be. I was so excited to share this with Rob and I found him backstage and surprised him by saying, "Hey Grill... Jesus loves you and so do I!"

He turned around... and took one look at me... ran over and threw his arms around me... and gave me one of the biggest hugs I've ever received in my life. We caught up for the moment... but had to move on... Grill with his gigs... and me with my newly formed prison ministry.

I learned over the years from Rob that he had met and married a wonderful and very beautiful young lady. I was really surprised. He told me with a sparkle in his eye, "Her name is Nancy!" He told me all about her... and how much he loved her... and how happy he was... and that his life was really all turned around for the better.

He attributed that directly to Nancy. I was so thrilled to hear him say that. I flashed on his numerous airport garbage can hugs and chuckled to myself, "Rob truly has finally found peace. Thank you Jesus." When I eventually met Nancy, I knew beyond a shadow of a doubt exactly what Grill meant.

When I said to Grill that time in Baltimore that Jesus loved him.... he told me... "I know that Marty.... I have known that most of my life... more now so... than ever before." I know Rob never wore his faith on his sleeve, but he was a believer in Christ deep in his heart never-the-less.

I never thought that I would be standing here today at a memorial service for Rob Grill's passing. He was way too young of a man... to be gone so soon. I know he really struggled with so many different ailments... and every time I talked to him it was always something new... or an old problem re-surfacing.

My heart ached for him knowing how much he suffered. I prayed God would help and heal him. And actually He finally did. In 1 Corinthians 15:55,57 - it states: O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory? ... But thanks be to God... who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Rob won his fight He finally has victory ... He even beat death. His illnesses only made his faith in Jesus Christ grow stronger and stronger over the years. They didn't make him weaker... They made him stronger so when he finally got to the end of his life... he was ready for the final note to play... so he could continue on into eternity.

Grill knew he was in good hands. I am sure he was sad having to leave his family and friends behind knowing how much he loved them. However, he knew he would see us all again on the other side. We spoke about this many times.

That is the beauty of having faith in Jesus Christ. He promises anyone who believes in Him eternal life. In the scripture John 3:16 states: For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. Christ is not bound up in man-made religions.... but allows us to have a deep personal relationship with the God who created us in the first place.

I know Rob knew this as he progressed along in life. He is now reaping the spoils of his battle with his flesh... and is a living free spirit in heaven... In 2 Corinthians 5:8 it reads: We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.

I am sure Grill is belting out one of his smash hits for all his family, friends and fans who greeted him there upon his arrival. His late son Christian must have been thrilled to see his old man walk through the door. I know how much Rob really loved him and was truly crushed when Chris passed away. But now they are together again.

The Bible teaches us that God has special times arranged in all of our lives... when he fires his spiritual arrows at us to get our attention. When things seem to be going along ok in life... we have tendency... to forget about God.

However, when those Godly arrow situations hit us... we can easily turn them into huge wake-up calls.

As we think over our own lives today... we might all remember when God used some very serious situation to get our attention... be it a death of a loved one... a sickness... possibly an arrest, a divorce or maybe even an addiction problem .. or now... even today... here at Rob's passing.

God's arrow is usually some very larger-than-life situation that we absolutely have no control over... and is so big that we really need to rely of God's help to get us through it.

We can either listen to what God is saying... to draw us closer to Him in our time of need.... or turn negative... and blame Him... and bitterly continue on in life... missing the opportunity to get right with Him... All that really does is to "kick the can down the road" ... for another day... another arrow... at another time.

Jesus said TODAY NOW.... is the day of salvation. We can all have fulfilled lives now... as we turn to our Savior for grace, mercy and love. So when we.... as Rob did... get to the final round of our own lives... God will be there ushering us into His full presence saying, "well done, my good and faithful servant."

I sure hope we will use the arrow God directs at each one of us today with Rob's passing... to search our hearts and to use this time to listen to that still small voice within us saying.... "It's ok.... I love you... I forgive you and I am here for you. I have a much bigger plan and purpose for your life. Trust me." If it is not today in your life that this happen... then I pray it will be soon. Please... let's not let God's salvation opportunity arrows just hit us without searching our hearts for what God is really trying to say to us today.

Thank you, Nancy. I love you so much for taking such great care of Rob. You were really a huge blessing to him... and I know how thankful he must be... and is also so proud of you today to bring us all together this way to celebrate... not his death... but his life. He is still very much alive.... and the promise is... we will all see him again someday... and at that time... it will be forever.

Marty. I love Jesus too. I was so blessed to hear of this story and testimony, for you and Rob. I spent many years in Mount Dora visiting my grand parents. There will never be a better musician, singer , writer, sportsman, in the world as Rob Grill and man was he handsome! The absolute best looking man, and so kind.

I miss him, but I play his music every single day of my life.

I don't like current day music but I love the 60s and 70s and that is all that I listen to.

It comforts me to reminisce about Rob and the band, it just makes my day.

May he rest in peace, and he will never be forgotten! I'm so glad he's not in pain anymore!

“ My wife and I have been devoted Rob Grill and Grass Roots fans for many, many years. In our opinion Rob Grill epitomized all that was good about the true American music of the 50's through the 70's. He was the consummate performer and in the many shows we were privileged to attend, his love for the music of the Grass Roots, his love of performing, and most important, his love for his fans was so obvious to all who watched him and his band. How he loved to work a crowd and you could always tell that he knew everyone there loved him and the Grass Roots. He always would close with "Midnight Confessions" and with some comment about knowing how to "throw a party". I'm sure those infamous musical Rob Grill "parties" are now being performed in Heaven. May God bless Rob, Nancy and the members of the Grass Roots as they all cope with this sudden and untimely loss. Know that the memories of Rob, his band, and his music will always be special to us and know also that all of his music will live on forever, as he will in all of our hearts. We will truly miss the one and only, Rob Grill. Rest in peace Rob.

“ RIP Rob. We saw you at a concert a few years back in Las Vegas and you sounded great...Brought back many wonderful memories of my childhood. I am 55 now and cannot say how terrific I felt when I walked away from that concert that night. We sat not more than 3 feet from you! The Grassroots were always one of my favorite bands and you were the main reason. We bought tickets for The Capital One Theater in Westbury, NY a couple of years ago and was so disappointed to see you not there. “ Nancy, You are in my prayers at this sad time. I wonder if you would consider writing a book so that Rob's life and legacy can be preserved along with his music? As Rob was one of the true rock legends with millions of fans it should logically be you, who knew him best, to tell his story in a way that will truly do him justice. It has been said that "there is a book in everyone"; Rob's life was surely unique and has touched multitudes. Many of us see Rob and you as great inspirations in a world that longs for "ordinary heroes" who have over come great adversity. “ Dear Nancy: I've read your comments on the Grass Roots fan web site. Your love for Rob is truly inspiring. He was lucky to have you be his wife. May I extended my most sincerest sympathies on Rob's passing. So sad that this happened to him, and you, and all who knew and loved him. I saw him in person in Syracuse NY in the early 80s, with the Turtles, Gary Lewis & the Playboys, and another group. Rob was absolutely the standout of all of the performers. And, yes, wasn't he incredibly handsome!!! At a little tavern in my neighborhood, we played Grass Roots songs all night on Thursday, July 14th. But we also have an "older" group of people who stop in on Saturday afternoons, and we all play lots of oldies, with the Grass Roots being the number one band we play. To Rob ... Thanks for the memories. It was the greatest of times, and you helped us make great memories. Nancy, may your loving memories of Rob be with you forever, and may they bring you comfort and joy for the rest of your life. You are a very lucky woman to have been his wife.

“ Rob had the "IT" factor. His stage presence wasn't fake as he truly appreciated his audience and the shows became a shared event not just a show. He singled me out in the audience and shared my hand, head and arm movements thus even though many feet away we shared a moment in dance. He made each member of the audience feel that we were special to him. I bet he and Christian are making some great music together now in heaven. All my love and prayers to Nancy!

“ Rob had a sweet voice and sang some hits with a bit of "urgency". Great thumping bassist too. Great music from different times. Prayers for his wife and all of his friends. We will miss him and his style. He really cared about his fans.

“ He was a great person and entertainer. He did a lot to keep the music of his era alive for two generations after the 60s. Huge loss and wont be replaced.

“ Nancy, My heartfelt condolences to you on Rob's passing. He was a great guy and will be greatly missed. My sister passed away last month and she was a huge Grass Roots fan. Now Terri, Rob and Rick Coonce (the drummer who passed away in February) will all be singing in heaven. Take care, Christine

“ I first met Rob when I was 15 and the Grass Roots played the Fantasy Fair at Devonshire Downs in Chatsworth, California in June of 1967. He was very kind to a young girl who had a huge "teenage crush" on him. I later went on to become friends with Rick Coonce as well - who also passed on earlier this year. It was with sadness that I learned of both of their passings and wish to send condolences to their families. Sincerely, Georganne La Piere (Bartylak)

“ Nancy, I never had the pleasure of meeting Rob but I've been a fan of The Grass Roots since I can remember it seems. I hope that you can find comfort in the good times that you have had with Rob and of the legacy that he leaves behind with his "timeless" music.
Sincerely. Kenny

“ Please accept my sorrow at this terrible time in your lives... I never knew Bob personally, but I was in a Central Florida band in the 60's called We the People, and I knew of him through his great voice and music... He was a part of our 60's generation, and in that respect we were all brothers. My heart grieves for all of you... :-(~ Wayne

“ Dear Nancy, Our heartfelt sympathies are extended to you from our hearts, in the loss of Rob. You are in our thoughts and prayers and may God give you comfort and strength through this difficult time. Rob's music will live on forever and all the kindness he showed will stay with all. Please know we are thinking about you. So sorry. With deepest regards, Gloria Baker and Michael Gambino

“ May you dance in heaven Rob...No more pain and suffering. You will be missed by so many but your memories will live forever. I am so glad to have had the pleasure of knowing you and Nancy, and when Nancy brought a picture of you to give to my son that you autographed for me, meant so much. As you found out later that she taught my son at Umatilla H.S., and that you played with Flash Cadillac and the Continental Kids in Grand Forks, North Dakota in 1972. It was the first concert I had ever attended and was in high school at that time. Little did I know we would cross paths and actually know one another after you met and married your soulmate Nancy. I will always hold the wonderful memories of that first concert near my heart, and miss running into you and Nancy at the old Publix in Mount Dora. Who would have thought? You were as genuine as anyone could possibly be. R.I.P. my friend. Your music will live forever. Thank you.

“ Dear Nancy & James, I have been a fan since 1966 of your husband and brother Rob and the Grass Roots. I was greatly encouraged by his wit, humor, and passion for his music. Luckily, I saw him in a 1998 Grass Roots concert in St Paul, MN, from the 3rd row. Rob outshined them all with his genuine passion for his fans & his music...clearly, Rob was a happy soul... and in Aug. 2011 Rob's spirit was at the Minnesota Grass Roots concert, could feel his presence there..."Heaven Knows" we will remember Rob. May God bless you all.

“ I had the pleasure of meeting Rob on a flight many years ago. It was great to meet someone who was an idol to me as I grew up in th 60's and 70's. He was cordial, engaging and self effacing. I felt when the plane landed I had made a friend. My deepest condolences to his family.
