

Robert Kellerberg

December 9, 2009

Obituary of Robert Kellerberg

Robert A. Kellerberg, 63, of Howey in the Hills, Florida passed away December 9, 2009. Born in Nashua, New Hampshire, he later moved to, and became a longtime resident of Florida. Mr. Kellerberg was a veteran, serving in the United States Marine Corps in Vietnam. He was an owner/operator driver for AG Carriers, a devoted and "GREAT" father, and his favorite pastime was riding his Harley.

He is survived by his two daughters: Dorothy Lawter of Chesnee, South Carolina and Debbie Mathis of Spartanburg, South Carolina; his father Warren Kellerberg of Howey in the Hills, Florida; four grandchildren: Robert Mathis, Samantha Mathis, Kenneth Mathis, and Michael Lawter; two great grandchildren; Balin Sadler and Chloe Mathis.

Tribute Wall

“ Robert Kellerberg

October 01, 2014 at 12:00 AM

“ Good bye from the one who loved you when we were just kids thank you for my two girls thru them you will never be gone. Rest in peace you deserve it. Always, Caroline {Carol}

caroline cash - October 01, 2014 at 12:00 AM

“ Debbie and Dorothy, your Dad was such a special man, you are both in my prayers, as well as your Grandfather Warren.

Debby McMurray - October 01, 2014 at 12:00 AM

“ Dad, I miss you more than my heart can take. You were the greatest part of my life. I want you to know i love you. Also people should know what a great person you are. I just can't say goodbye.

debbie kellerberg - October 01, 2014 at 12:00 AM

“ Oh, Kelly!! You were so much fun and such a good friend!!! I remember from History class and I liked you then. You were always so caring and would have given the shirt off your back if someone needed it. I am praying for your family so hard because I know you have left a huge hole in their hearts. God bless you and your family!!! See ya someday!!

Suzy Pabst - October 01, 2014 at 12:00 AM