“ The world is a smaller place now Butch is gone.. I respected him for his honesty, work ethic and giving me a chance to be one of few women construction workers... He was one of my 1st superintendents... believe me he didn't treat me any different thenThe guys. I always like a good game of golf with him and my husband.... He was a good man and was respected by many in the cold storage construction community... although it's been many yearsSince I saw him we did correspond e-mail once in a Great while... to Joey and Eric I miss you both and hope life has been good to you both. I hope you know that I think about You both and am sorry for your loss... Michelle
