“ -Never Gone- There are very few people in this ever-expanding world who have loved me unconditionally since I was just a baby girl. ... The impact you have made is one hard to explain its been long since I've seen you but I feel you every day. Your heart is solid gold and your words so very true God could not have made me without first creating you. This is the hardest thing to hear you're moving on but though I may not see you I know you're never gone. You'll be here for my wedding and you'll see your great grandkids too you wont miss birthdays or Christmas because thats just not you. And anytime I need you from dusk until the light of dawn I know that you're here with me because you're never gone. I love you Granny Rosie.

“ I always remember Aunt Rosie as the most beautiful and elegant women I knew. Even as a young girl I remember wonder and even asked once if she used "oil of old lady" to stay so pretty? She laughed so hard, but till this day I have a bottle of Oil of Olay on my dresser. She will be sadly missed but I know in my heart that Heaven was happier the day she arrived! She'll never be alone with so many a head of her to welcome her home and in our heart she will always remain alive in memories.
