“ We were deeply saddened yesterday when we heard you had lost your husband. We would first like to extend our heartfelt sympathy to you and the family. The loss must touch you very deeply as you face these first numbing days of grief. It is not easy to lose a beloved spouse or loving father/Grandfather. From our neighborhood we watched one of "Daddy's girls" be the twinkle of his eyes and it saddens us to no longer be able to witness the love. The great stories he always told were exceptional and will truly be missed. To quote Tagore-- "Death is not extinguishing the light, it is putting out the lamp because the dawn has come." Please hold tight to your memories for comfort, lean on your families and friends for strength and always remember how much you all are loved.
