“Ruth lived across the street from my husband and me, on Maria Ct. I met Ruth January 2010 and I invited her over for coffee. Ruth sat on the sofa with both feet on the floor, her hands folded in her lap, and her back straight, just like a school girl. She told me about the passing of her husband Don whom I had never met. I don't think Ruth even blinked! She talked and talked in that soft voice of hers and when she thought it was time to go home, she thanked me for listening.

Ruth and I had many many trips to PUBLIX, doctors, Denny's, and Too-Jays. Sometimes we just went for a ride around The Villages to see the new building projects. Often we sat at her kitchen table and watched the golf carts and cars go by. Ruth didn't miss a trick! Every morning I checked Ruth's blinds to be sure that they were open, and that she had started her day.

I miss Ruth. I look forward to seeing her in heaven someday...

Fondly, Roseanne Critchlow
